

Water, golf, waste

As a longtime resident of Apple Valley, I am fed up with the Town Council's attempt to buy the Apple Valley Ranchos water system. Our town has lost hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to take over the system, and the only ones who have gotten anything out of it are the attorneys negotiating the takeover.

Apple Valley is already struggling to pay for the overpriced golf course; how can we afford to run a water system, too?

— Austin Schnider, Apple Valley

Letter to the Editor published in the Sept. 22, 2015 issue of The Desert Dispatch